

www.sigma-networks.co.uk

SIGMA Gears up for a busy First Quarter...

Well, that's the Christmas Schools rush over with for another year. Our busy festive holiday schedule was once again completed on time and within budget, and we even managed to cope with the dreaded flu virus striking half the staff down over the Christmas period!

As we enter our 15th year, we look forward to a busy first quarter, having recently been awarded contracts in the City of London (providing electrical services, security systems, access controls and CCTV along with a data network), East London (providing electrical services, CCTV security and data networks), the West End of London (electrical services) and Basingstoke (fibre optic, data networks and voice services). There's also the Half Term holiday on the horizon.

Hosted IP Telephony

We start off a new marketing campaign on the 1st February, promoting our new Hosted IP Telephony package, which gives clients the benefits of a traditional telephone system, but with greater flexibility and at a fraction of the cost. The ease at which you can build your system as your company grows, with minimal initial capital outlay is a distinct advantage to small companies: check out Voice, Data and IT Services on our website for the latest details. We believe this system is so good we're replacing our own Avaya Index and installing hosted IP telephony in our own offices.

Annual Mandatory Electrical Testing

We are coming round to that part of the year when everyone should be turning their attentions to the annual mandatory electrical testing that is required under current legislation.

Contact us for your Portable Appliance Testing (PAT), Emergency Lighting Testing and 5-year Fixed Wiring Periodic Testing. With The Electrical Safety Council reporting that 19% of fires are electrical in origin, and the majority of commercial insurance policies requiring up-to-date electrical testing certificates, now's the time to ensure you're both safe and legal!

CCTV Sale now on...

We have some great offers on our CCTV range in our New Year Sale.

We are giving up to 20% savings on new system orders. Or trade-in your old system to save up to 30% on all orders place before the 15th February 2011.

Book your mandatory electrical testing...

Call us on 0844 824 0775

www.sigma-networks.co.uk